

DAILY NEWS

APRIL 6, 2005

LITTLE LUXURY

Gelato by mail: That's cool!

With flavors like mascarpone, honey lavender, peanut butter and toasted almond, the outstanding gelatos from Il Laboratorio del Gelato are now more accessible than ever. And next time you have a craving for premium ice cream, you can, for the first time, order the delectable flavors by mail. Four pints cost $60 plus shipping, which is via FedEx Overnight. You can also buy the pints for $6.50 to $8 depending upon where you shop; they're at Dean & DeLuca, Grace's Marketplace and Murray's Cheese. At their retail shop (95 Orchard St. at Broome St.; 212-343-9922), you'll find all 24 flavors prescooped and selling for $7.25 a pint. If you're watching calories, the refreshing sorbet comes in green apple, lemon, dark chocolate and tangerine.

R.B.